Numb. 1239

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Monday October 1. to Thursday October 4. 1677.

Mosco, Aug. 31.

SEveral Couriers arrived here the last week, who brought advice, that not only the Turks and Tartars had besieged Czecheim, heretofore the Residence of Doroſenſko, but that they had likewise appeared in very considerable parties before Kiovia; whereupon an Extraordinary Councel hath been held here, in which, among other things, it was resolved, that a Solemn Embassie should be sent to the King of Sueden, the King of Denmark, and other Princes engaged in the War, to exhort them to a Peace among themselves, and to turn their Arms against the common Enemy; and we are told that the Chancellor Federowitz will be the chief of this Embassie. In the mean time the Sieur Gabal, Envoy of Denmark, continues his instances at this Court to persuade it to a War against the Suedes, but without any success.

Cadiz, Sept. 15. We have certain advice here, That Sir John Narborough, commanding the English Squadron in these Seas, hath about the Streights Mouth, taken two Algerine Men of War, and freed two English ships, which they were carrying to Algiers on pretence they wanted the Passports they ought to have; and we have fresh Letters from Tangier, which not only confirm the above said but add, that one of Sir John Narborough's Frigats, when these Letters came away, was in pursuit of another Algerine of considerable Force, and that the wind blowing pretty fresh, it was believed he would not escape.

Vienna Sept. 23. On Monday last arrived here Count Vecchi, being sent by the Duke of Saxe Eyſenach to give his Imperial Majesty an account of the present posture of things in Alsatia, where the French grow too strong for him, so that it's thought he will be forced to repass the Rhine. Here are Deputies from the City of Strasbourg, who come to sollicite a moderation of the Sum demanded of them towards the providing Winter-quarters for the Imperial Troops. The Emperor has given orders for the assembling of the States of the Upper and Lower Hungary. The Letters we have from Cassovia, which is the Capitol of the Upper Hungary, say, that General Schmidt, and General Bargozzi, were marched from thence at midnight, with 1500 Horse and Dragoons upon some design against the Rebels.

Ditto, Sept. 26. We are told that a very considerable Sum of Mony hath been lately remitted hither, for the payment of the Arrears of the Subsidies due to his Imperial Majesty from the Crown of Spain. The Letters we receive from the Army in Germany, speak the same to be in no very good condition, occasioned by the great wants and hardships the Soldiers suffered in their retreat from the Meuse to the Rhine. The Duke of Lorrain is not expected here till towards the middle of November, for he will not leave the Army till he has wholly settled the Winter-quarters for the Troops, which is like to prove a matter of difficulty; for the States of the Empire have already suffered so much by wintering the same Troops, that they cannot hardly be perswaded to submit to bear that burthen again. Their Imperial Majesties continue at Ebersdorf.

Ratisbonne, Sept. 27. Saturday last passed through this City the Marquis de Grana and the Count de Capliers, Commissary General, going in great haste towards Vienna to receive the Emperors final direction about regulating the Winter-quarters for the Imperial Army, which is likely to prove a work of great difficulty through the unwillingness of most of the Princes and States concerned to comply with the Emperors desires in this matter. The States of the Circle of Suabia are at present assembled at Ulm, on the same occasion, the Count Frobenius de Furstemberg assisting there on the part of the Emperor, as does the Count d'Esinghen at Bamberg, where the States of Franconia are assembled. The Troops of the Elector of Bavaria are dispersed in several Towns and Villages in his Territories, yet so, as in case of occasion they may be quickly brought together. That Elector persists in his resolution to observe an exact Neutrality.

Copenhagen, Sept. 28. On Saturday the King returned hither from the Isle of Rugen, where his Majesty had landed his Forces with little loss. His Majesty will speedily return thither again with some Regiments of Horse, which will be embarked in two or three days; for Count Coningsmarke has 2 or 3000 Horse to oppose them, but few Foot. Since the Danish Fleet left Calmar, they have been at Westerwycke, and burnt the whole Town.

Hamburg, Octob. 5. Nothing of moment has happened since my last on the Isle of Rugen; both the Danes and the Suedes have fortified themselves there. At Stetin the service grows very warm.

Hague, Octob. 5. On Friday last his Highness the Prince of Orange, as you have already understood, was in the Assembly of the States General, where he continued till half an hour after two, having given them an account of his proceedings this Campagne. On Saturday morning his Highness accompanied with the Earl of Ossory, &c. went to Soestdyke, the Duke of Albemarle parting hence the same day, on his return for England. The States of Holland will be extraordinarily assembled here on Thursday next, at the desire of his Highness, he having some matters of importance, as is said, to communicate to them. The Dutch Consul at Cadiz, having been very unhandsomely treated by the Governor, Orders are sent to the Minister of this State at the Court at Madrid, to complain thereof. The last account we had of affairs at Rugen, was, that as well the Danes as the Suedes had fortified themselves on that Island, and that the former would not be able to make any farther progress without first attacking the Suedes, who being stronger than the Danes in Cavalry, notwithstanding the two Regiments sent them by the Elector of Brandenburg, the King of Denmark was returned to Copenhagen, to fetch more Troops from those parts. The Siege of Stetin grows very hot, as well the Besieged as the Besiegers having sprung several Mines.

Ditto,